DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 22, 23, 25-40, and 42-46 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10, 20, and 21 of U. S. Patent No. 6,665,792. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, such as "the replay system is to replay a load instruction that is later in sequence than the invalid store instruction" described in claim 22, lines 7-9 of the instant application is covered by the limitation as described, in claim 1, lines 13-15, of the patent since "the instruction that is later in sequence" has the same meaning as "instruction which is programmatically younger".

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: "325" (in Fig. 3). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR

1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. The drawings are objected to because Fig. 3 and Fig. 4, each contain two figures. Each figure should be drawn and listed separately in Brief Description of the Drawings. Appropriate correction is required.. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. Claims 24-26 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 24 it is not clear how the memory execution unit can replay load instructions. Note as indicated in Fig. 1 and page 13, lines 12-13, Replay System 117 is the device for replaying the load instructions. Similar problems exist in claim 41.

Applicant is required to review the claims and correct all language which does not comply with 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Steely, Jr. et al.'662 discloses a pipelined processor includes an instruction box including a register mapper, to map register operand fields of a set of instructions and an instruction scheduler, fed by the set of instructions, to reorder the issuance of the set of instructions from the instruction processor. The processor further includes a memory reference tagging store associated with the instruction scheduler so that the scheduler can reorder memory reference instructions without knowing the actual memory location addressed by the memory reference instruction.

McKeen et al.'022 discloses apparatus and method for speculatively executing instructions in a computer system. a compiler groups instructions into sets. The sets of instructions are related by data and control dependencies which are unresolvable by the compiler. If an exception condition does occur while executing a set of instructions in the speculative state, that exception condition is detected and the set of instructions is re-executed in a real state of the computer system to resolve the exception condition.

Keller et al.'403 discloses apparatus and method for replaying decoded instructions. A silo is connected to the output of the decoder and siloes and outputs the decoded instructions to the machine. The outputting of the decoded instructions to the machine are switched between the silo and the decoder, so that the machine receives the siloed decoded instructions. By siloing and then replaying already decoded instructions at the time of a trap occurrence, a speed increase is achieved, since the instructions which are in the trap shadow do not have to be decoded again.
